PREFACE.

11/10/11

I have given much attention to references to biographical articles relating to distinguished judges and lawyers, both living and deceased. Accordingly, such notices in all the journals and reviews, which seemed to be of value, even when brief, have been referred to. Moreover, all the reports of the American courts, some three thousand volumes, have been examined volume by volume, in order to make references to the proceedings in court and eulogies upon the occasion of the decease of eminent judges and lawyers. Generally, in references to biographical notices, the date of the birth and of the death (of deceased persons) is given after the names, thus serving to identify those referred to, and at the same time to afford in the Index itself this item of information.

JOHN WILSON AND SON, CAMBRIDGE.

PREFACE.

I HAVE attempted in this Index to refer to the articles relating to matters of law and legislation contained in the whole body of periodical literature in the English language published prior to January, 1887. To this end I have included references to the articles, papers, correspondence, annotated cases, and biographical notices in the legal journals of America, England, Scotland, Ireland, and the English Colonies; and to such articles in the principal literary reviews and magazines of these countries as seemed to belong properly to legal literature. I have also included references to the papers and proceedings of the American Bar Association, and of the various State Bar Associations; and also references to such of the papers and transactions of the English and American Social Science Associations, and of the Statistical Society, as seemed to come within the scope of this index.

I have given much attention to references to biographical articles relating to distinguished judges and lawyers, both living and deceased. Accordingly, such notices in all the journals and reviews, which seemed to be of value, even when brief, have been referred to. Moreover, all the reports of the American courts, some three thousand volumes, have been examined volume by volume, in order to make references to the proceedings in court and eulogies upon the occasion of the decease of eminent judges and lawyers. Generally, in references to biographical notices, the date of the birth and of the death (of deceased persons) is given after the names, thus serving to identify those referred to, and at the same time to afford in the Index itself a item of information.

For the means of finding the articles relating to law and legislation in the many periodicals published prior to 1882, I am much indebted to Mr. Le's admirable Index; but all these articles have been examined in the periodicals themselves, in making the references in the present Index; and a of the principal reviews and magazines have been examined through to select the articles referred to.

2 pl X
9-5-71

The names of the authors of the articles indexed have been given whenever they could be ascertained. To obtain the names of authors of articles which had appeared anonymously in the law journals, I sent circulars of inquiry to many legal authors, and to the editors of law journals, and received numerous replies. I regret, however, that the titles of so many articles appear without their authors' names.

One hundred and fifty-eight different law journals and reviews have been indexed; and also the articles relating to matters of law and legislation, and to biographies of judges and lawyers, in one hundred and thirteen of the principal American, British, and Colonial literary magazines and reviews. The number of volumes of law periodicals indexed is thirteen hundred and seventy-three; and the articles pertaining to law and legislation in upwards of forty-four hundred volumes of literary and historical periodicals, are also included.

Of course the editor has been obliged to use his discretion in selecting the articles to be indexed from the periodicals which publish many short articles. In many instances brief articles have been referred to because they seemed to be of value, while others of sufficient length to be referred to have been omitted because they seemed to be of merely temporary or local interest. It was thought better, however, to err by including unimportant articles, than to err in omitting those of value.

I commenced this work with the conviction that a great store of papers and articles was hidden and neglected in the legal journals and reviews which could be made valuable to lawyers and legislators by an index. Now, at the completion of the work, after a hasty examination of the whole mass of this literature, I am more impressed with its practical usefulness. Many minor topics of the law, which are wholly neglected or only briefly treated in the text-books, are often fully and exhaustively treated in the legal journals by able lawyers. The list of Authors of Articles shows that the great mass of the contributions to these periodicals has been made by lawyers and judges who are not authors of text-books, and who have not published their articles in any other form. I wish particularly to call attention to the valuable papers published by the various Bar Associations and by the Social Science Associations.
